Kidney Ailments Can Be Relieved by the Merits of Tonal

Says W. D. Linebaugh, a Prominent Citizen of Mt. Wolf, Pa.

"I am past three-score years," says W. D. Linebaugh, of Mount Wolf, York County, Pa., "and have had kidney ailments for the past ten years, and what I went through only myself knew. I would have to get up four or five times at night, and the pains I would get in my back and around my shoulders at times were awful; I could hardly raise my arms. I was advised I had lumbago and dear knows what else; had tried doctors and various remedies to gain relief, but was the same old story—no better. However, I was in Shearer's Drug Store at York, and having heard so much about Tonal thought I would try a bottle, and the results I have obtained have not been far short of a miracle. Why, I tell you, my wife said to me, you owe it to the suffering community to give a testimonial what Tonal has done for you, as someone else may be suffering just the same as I did, and perhaps Tonal will do them good also, as I had recommended Tonal to several of my friends and they all report good results. Why, I can hardly conceive I am the same person. Just feel fine, and sleep so good I hate to get up in the mornings, whereas before taking Tonal I felt as if my rest did not do me any good, and I dreaded to move about as I was so stiff, and mopey. I think the good results I received were due to the various herbs, roots and barks which Tonal contains. Just tell anyone who desires to know the condition I was in before I took Tonal to come and see me," and I can tell them better than write it.

2 BLITHESOME MOVIE QUEENS CHARMING N. Y.

May Collins and Mary Thurman "Playing" Fifth Avenue on Shopping Trip.

By WILLENE TAYLOR.
(Copyright, 1922, by Cosmopolitan News Service.)

NEW YORK, April 18.—Two of the really smart and stunning girls of the movies have reached Fifth avenue. They boast the well-known names of May Collins and Mary Thurman. They are very much on the Avenue. With boudoir at the Gotham Hotel at Fifty-first street and Fifth avenue, they are urping up and down that famous street of feminine temptations ordering away their stellar salaries.

May is wearing the magnificent $2,000 silver fox that Charlie Chaplin brought to her from England last fall, but pretty May says, "No, we're not to be married, but I was engaged to him eight whole months. He is the most admirable man I know, but I don't love him. I don't believe that Charlie Chaplin is the real lover or marrying kind."

It may be that the two youthful charmers will depart from the screen just long enough to get some stock experience this summer.

William Farnum has just completed another one of his whole-some characterizations of honest-for-goodness men in "Shekels of Gold." Farnum has been working on this picture in the Fox studios in New York for a number of weeks, but with its completion, will now rest at his Sag Harbor home on Long Island until the start of his next picture, "Shekels of Gold" was adapted from Henry Bernstein's "Samson," and in play form ran on Broadway two years with William Gillet playing the lead.

The last scene of a new special production was shot Thursday night in the Fox studios at Fifty-sixth street and Tenth avenue and the studios will be dark for two weeks now. This last production has not been titled, but it is from the French, "Dr. Rameau," by Georges Ohnet and Barbara Castleton appears in the lead.

At the Tiffany studios, on Forty-fourth street, Mae Murray is getting her finery in shape for the opening of a new picture, "The Broadway Rose." Work had hard plans for the sets and thinking up gorgeous new creations for her to peacock about in as "The Broadway Rose."

Dorothy Dalton will arrive early this week at Hollywood with the knowledge that the express carries two trunks brimming over with New York's smartest fashions. Miss Dalton, the absurdly fascinating dimples, came East for the purpose of visiting every exclusive shop on and off Fifth avenue. When she departed her dimples told you that she was simply delighted with her shopping.

PARIS, France.

A GOWN from Poiret in a manner peculiarly Poiretesque is of white crepe de chine having its tunic lined with bright and dull silver brocade. By the way, is it a tunic or is it a train—or is it perhaps, both? The raised waistline is girdled in silver ribbon.

AN abundance of jade green georgette crepe is made into a graceful, draped dinner gown by Maison Georgette. It outdoes itself in the matter of sleeves—the panel of fabric that trims the front of the collar like a bertha continuing over the shoulder and upper arm and falling down at the neck, where it is bound about the wrist and finished with floor-deep streamers of matching ribbon. The low twisted girde that drops a full panel over one hip and the pointed skirt drapery are interesting and of the mode.

Hy Mayer, world famous cartoonist, is to put his funnies on the screen in the form of "Traveling Laughs." He has signed with R-C Pictures to begin work April 23 on a series of these animated cartoons. Each "Traveling Laugh" will have its setting in some foreign country and will be made valuable educationally as well as comically. The first released will be "Such Is Life in London's West End" and the second will be a Dutch picture. In the way of geographical education, another picture has been released called "A Trip Around the World," which will be sponsored by Prof. Emil L. Crandall, of the department of lectures of the bureau of education, of New York city. It is a Burton Holmes special.

Over at the Apollo Theater where "Orphans of the Storm" is showing, the picture screen gets a milk bath every six weeks. D. W. Griffith thought of the idea in order to keep the screen white, for water turns the screens yellow. Hereafter, Griffith intends to treat all his screens with the same consideration and expects in return 100 per cent service from his milk-bathed screens.

Jack Dempsey has decided to swing his uppercuts before the camera, while backward pugilists are getting up courage to challenge him to a battle. Things grow dull to the master of a sport when there is no one to sport with. Therefore, he big boy will display his physique in a series to be called "Daredevil Jack," which is to start work in a New York studio after his return from Europe.

Uncle Sam to Find Out How Many Pigs He Owns

How many pigs in America? Uncle Sam wants to know and in order to find out Secretary Wallace of the Agriculture Department has ordered a special pig survey.

The swine figures are being gathered by the Postoffice Department through the assistance of rural mail carriers supplemented by other reports.

The swine census, it is expected, will enable hog raisers to plan their operations and marketing periods so that the market supply will be more in accord with the demand than it has been heretofore.

THEATER ROOF FALLS IN CUBA; 16 DEAD

HAVANA, April 18.—Sixteen persons are reported to have been killed last night by a roof cave-in at a theater in Arroyo Arenas, Mariano, thirteen miles from this city. At midnight only meager and confused reports were available from the scene of the catastrophe. Squads of police and ambulances were rushed to the scene from Havana.

The disaster occurred during the Feast of the Resurrection, an Easter holiday, and the theater was crowded with men, women and children.

'BIG NAVY' MEN STAND READY TO GOUPON RECORD

Disposition to Force Roll Call Vote on Size of Fleet Is Agreeable.

International News Service.
House Republican leaders opposed to a treaty are determined to make the size of the navy a political issue. In order to get every Republican member in favor of a navy as recommended by President Harding they will force a record vote before the bill is passed by the House.

"If the majority of the House wants a big navy and is willing to add $50,000,000 to the expenses of the navy, it must vote for such a navy," declared Chairman Madden, of the Appropriations Committee, today, who opposed the recommendations of President Harding, Secretary Hughes and Secretary Danby.

The advocates of a treaty navy maintained at highest efficiency, led by Congressmen Padgett and Gallivan, Democrats, and McArthur and Rogers, Republicans, are bringing back the members and an unusually large attendance is assured for the final vote on the bill.

"Big" navy men have no fear, and the "little" navy men have small hopes that the action of the House last Saturday in increasing the enlisted personnel from 67,000 to 86,000 men will be upset. The clear majority of forty-seven obtained out of a total vote of 307 is expected to follow in ratio through a larger vote. In fact, the big navy men think they will gain in majority because many of their men were absent on Saturday, having gone to keep speaking and other engagements for Easter Saturday in nearby cities. The House, working in Committee of the Whole, today increased pay provisions of the bill to conform to the increased personnel ordered last Saturday.

Do Trifles Annoy and Upset You Do You Have Frequent Headaches Do You Quarrel With Those You Love Do You Jump When the Door Slams

Well Known Hospital Physician Says These Are Some of the Danger Signals of Exhausted Nerve Force—What To Do

One of the most terrible of all human ailments is exhausted nerve force. It weakens all the vital organs of the body and as a result all kinds of alarming symptoms may appear. Some people get nervous indignation, pains over the eyes, in the heart, and across the small of the back; in others the first symptoms are mental instead of physical—sleeplessness, worry over trifles, or inability to concentrate on your work.

The nervous mother is upset by her children, squabbles with her husband, has frequent fits of the "blues" and bursts into tears over the smallest troubles. In such cases it is worse than useless to waste time taking stimulating medicines or narcotic drugs; the starving nerve cells must have nerve food which is supplied by the blood. Any physician will tell you that if the blood supply were cut off from any nerve in your body that the nerve would die.
